Lockwood Residence
Painesville, Ohio

HABS No. O-255

Built in the year 1810 in Painesville, Ohio, on what is now known as South Park Place.

It was built and owned by Stanley Lockwood who moved here from Bridgeport, Connecticut. Later it was sold to Mr. Marlin, and now owned by the Misses Marlin.

The main feature of this house is the chimneys in the parlor and dining-room that arch themselves over the stairway (from first to second floor).

It is of early American style of Architecture and is in a fair state of preservation.
